

MySQL project which is a cloned mimic version of Instagram database. It is used to perform data analysis for real world business related questions and scenarios such as

- find out the rewarding system for the loyal users
- launching campaign to target the weekdays with the most user registrations
- encouraging inactive users to log in back to the system